

Mr James Burnie, partner specialising in regulation, blockchain and cryptoassets, gunnercooke

Mr James Burnie FRSA is a partner specialising in regulation, blockchain and cryptoassets at law firm gunnercooke. His practice is broad, with clients including digital asset firms, token developers, cryptoasset custodians, blockchain platforms, crypto-exchanges, exchanges run using distributed ledger technology, crypto-custodians, crypto-brokers, crypto-funds and DeFi projects. Highlights include advising on the first successful UK-based ICO, on the first equity issuance settled on-chain, and recently working with the Mauritius FSC to develop its cryptoasset regulatory framework. He is co-author of the RegTech and PayTech books, whose authorship is crowd-sourced through a voting process, and co-published one of the first function-based cryptoasset taxonomies. He has given evidence to the UK All-Party Parliamentary Group on Blockchain and Cryptoassets, and is a named contributor to the UKJT legal statement on cryptoassets and smart contracts. His work is award winning including being a finalist at the Crypto A.M. Awards 2021. He has been awarded a Fellowship of FRSA as a result of his work in blockchain and cryptoassets.

Ms.Nena Dukozov, Head of Project Group for New Economy and Blockchain Technologies, Ministry of Economic Development and Technology, Slovenia

Ms Nena Dokuzov is a Head of Project group for New Economy and Blockchain Technology at the Ministry of Economic Development and Technology in Slovenia. She encouraged and led the preparation of Action plan for Blockchain Technology, a strategic and implementation framework, with the purpose to identify relevant areas for blockchain (vertical and horizontal), and to define regulatory framework and steps necessary for the development of new regulation for Blockchain. Action Plan was adopted by the Government of Slovenia in May 2018.

Albi Rodriguez Jaramillo, Head of Communities and Ecosystems, LACChain, Inter-American Development Bank Group

Mr Albi Rodriguez Jaramillo is an international legal consultant in new technologies and digital ecosystems with specialization in financial inclusion. He is the Head of Ecosystems and Communities at LACChain, a blockchain initiative lead by the Innovation Lab of the Inter-American Development Bank (IADB-LAB). He is participating in the Observatory LegalTech NewLaw Garrigues-ICADE at the Universidad de Comillas (Madrid-Spain). He is also part of the Governmental Advisory Body (GAB) at INATBA.